The County of Los Angeles Department of Public Health is adopting a staged approach, supported by science and public health expertise, to allow for people to start to use public spaces again in ways that will limit the risk of exposure to COVID-19. Accordingly, the County of Los Angeles is reopening public trails and trailheads to allow residents increased outdoor recreation options. Staying physically active is one of the best ways to keep your mind and body healthy. Using recreational and multi-use trails can be an important way to relieve stress, get some fresh air and vitamin D, stay active, and safely connect with nature. During the COVID-19 pandemic, it is crucially important that you follow the DO's and DON'Ts below in order to use public trails in a way that keeps you and others healthy.

DOs

1. Prepare before you visit a trail.
 - a. Check with the park in advance to be sure you know which areas or services are open, (such as bathroom facilities and concessions) and bring what you need with you. Information on 600 miles of local, state, and federal trails in Los Angeles County can be accessed at www.trails.lacounty.gov. Standard trail use etiquette and safety guidelines can be found at <https://trails.lacounty.gov/Prepare>. Additionally, we encourage you to visit the local jurisdiction's website for additional information on trails in your area.
2. Follow all park, trail or nature preserve rules, regulations and any posted access restrictions.
3. Stay at least six (6) feet from others who are not members of your household at all times. This might make some open areas, trails, and paths better to use than others. Avoid crowded areas. Everyone needs a face covering at the trailhead/parking lots and on any trails where there are other groups of people nearby. Infants and children under the age of 2 should not wear cloth face coverings. Individuals who have been instructed not to wear a face covering by their medical provider are also exempt from wearing one.
4. Wash hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds, especially after going to the bathroom, before eating, and after blowing your nose, coughing, or sneezing.
5. Pack out all trash.

Recommendations (Not Requirements):

1. Be alert and observant of surroundings while using the trail.
2. Become familiar with the following trail user passing protocols:
 - a. Gain and maintain eye contact.
 - b. Provide adequate physical distancing when passing others.
 - c. Step off trail to allow others to pass as needed, where safely possible.
