

NOTICE

Don't let your boat be a home to West Nile virus.

West Nile virus is a severe disease that spreads from bites of infected mosquitoes. Some cases of West Nile virus were found recently in your area. Canvases, tarps, and containers can collect fresh water and can be places where mosquitoes can lay their eggs.

Follow these steps to protect yourself and your neighbors.

Dump and drain water to prevent mosquitoes from laying their eggs.	Wear long sleeve shirts and pants to avoid mosquito bites.	Use insect repellent containing DEET when outside.
