

DEVELOPMENTAL SCREENINGS

WHAT IS A SCREENING?

A developmental screening is a way to check how your child is growing, learning, and developing. You can talk to your child's doctor about getting free screenings. They often use tools like the Ages and Stages Questionnaire (ASQ) and the Survey of Well-being of Young Children (SWYC).

Screenings help the doctor see how your child is changing and growing. They can also help find any concerns with how your child thinks, moves, talks, or acts.

WHERE TO GET SCREEINGS

You can get FREE screenings at your child's doctor's office.

You are not alone in this journey. ENRICH-LAC Family Partners are here to help and support you in making a better future for your child.

ABOUT ENRICH-LAC SERVICES

ENRICH-LAC is here to help families and caregivers of children with development, educational, and special health care needs. Our Family Partners are here to guide you through this journey.

HOW ENRICH-LAC FAMILY PARTNERS CAN HELP

RECOGNIZE NEEDS

We can help you find and get services to support your child's developmental and educational needs.

EMPOWERMENT AND ADVOCACY

We can help you become more confident and learn how to speak up for your child and family's needs.

STEP 1: DEVELOPMENTAL SCREENINGS

Start your child's developmental journey with a screening at their doctor's office. This will help make sure your child gets the right support early on.

STEP 2: CONNECT TO SERVICES

Our Family Partners can help you find the right support services for your child.

STEP 3: SET AND ACHIEVE GOALS

We will work with you to set goals for your child's health, behavior, education, and more. Together, we can track progress and celebrate successes.
