The Souris Valley Animal Shelter is passionate about removing barriers— that includes the barriers that prevent women from fleeing domestic violence situations. Learn how the Souris Valley Animal Shelter partners with the Minot, SD Domestic Violence Crisis Center and the YWCA to create an effortless system for keeping women fleeing domestic violence with their pets safe. Discussed during this session will be ways animal shelters can create partnerships with their local domestic violence programs and other allies; what is necessary to do so; planning for the safety of the pets as well as their humans during and beyond their stay; the money; the data; and why this type of partnership is critical to domestic violence victims, their families, and their pets.
