Summary

Healthcare providers will learn from Los Angeles County Department of Public Health Medical Epidemiologists who are part of the team overseeing the local response to Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19). The webinar will cover the epidemiology of COVID-19, current recommendations for the clinical evaluation of patients with suspect COVID-19 infection, and infection control and prevention. There will also be a live Q&A session.

Target Audience

This activity was designed for outpatient health care providers in Los Angeles County including urgent care, emergency medicine, student health, and primary care clinicians.

Learning Objectives

At the conclusion of the webinar, participants will feel more confident in their ability to:

- Identify a suspect case of COVID-19
- Manage patients who may have or are confirmed to have COVID-19
- Prevent the spread of COVID-19 in the health care setting and community
- Access the most up-to-date national and local resources regarding COVID-19
